

International Competition: Call for Teaching Case Studies

Emerald Emerging Markets Case Studies

Emerald Emerging Markets Case Studies collection is awarding $1,000 (USD) to the author/s of the best teaching case submitted as part of this international competition.

If you have business and management cases with a focus on emerging economies, that you have tried and tested in class, why not enter them into this competition? You could potentially:

- Win the cash prize.
- Share your case with other educators around the globe. If your case is selected for publication, it will be read and used by your peers in universities around the world. Your case will enrich the teaching and learning experience of educators and students internationally.

Submissions are to be made via ScholarOne to the "International Competition Issue". Authors are invited to follow these guidelines and are required to submit their case study, teaching notes and consent to publish form to the "International Competition Issue". Submissions which are not flagged up as being part of the International Competition Issue will not be eligible for the prize.

Relevant submissions will enter into the review process and authors will receive feedback about their work. Winner/s will be announced at the end of June 2012.

Deadline for submission: 11 May 2012

Selected cases will be published in the Emerald Emerging Markets Case Studies and will enjoy international dissemination and wide readership and usage.
